

DEATH OF EARNEST BROWN

FOLLOWS SEVEN MONTHS OF INTENSE SUFFERING.

City Recorder Finally Surrenders in His Heroic Fight For Life.

Ernest P. Brown has passed to his reward. The news of his death, which occurred at 9:10 o'clock last night, was the occasion for many remarks of sympathy for the family of this well-known citizen. For seven months he has fought with an heroic effort against the insidious disease which was slowly but certainly carrying him each day nearer the grave. Notwithstanding every effort known to medical science and skill, it was realized by those who were familiar with his condition several weeks ago that his death was only a matter of time, and that the plans of the "grim reaper" could not be thwarted.

Last December he was taken ill. Believing that an operation would remove the cause of his illness, he was taken to Salt Lake where an operation was performed at the Latter-Day Saints hospital on January 30. He failed to rally and another operation was advised. This was performed at the Ogden General hospital. As a final effort to restore him to health he was again taken to Salt Lake and operated upon at St. Mark's hospital, May 4. Since the last operation Mr. Brown continued to decline in health until the end. Three weeks ago it was realized that death was imminent and his family was so advised.

For the past few months, since his first illness he has been unable to perform the duties of his office as city recorder. Mr. Brown was a conscientious official and was every ready to extend a favor in his official capacity when it was possible to do so.

He was born in Ogden, December 25, 1875. On September 24, 1902, he was married to Miss Hedvig E. Goff, who with three children, his parents, four sisters and two brothers, survive him. All of the family live in Ogden except a brother, Dr. A. L. Brown, of Bountiful, who arrived here when it became known that the last fighting chance was gone.

Ernest Brown was a prominent factor in Weber county politics for many years. His first term as city recorder was in 1902. He was a Republican in politics and was true to the tenets of his political faith.

The announcement of the funeral arrangements will be made later.

T. W. Read, of 1824 Washington avenue, proposes to make the artists and landscape professors of this vicinity sit up and take notice in the matter of competition for prizes in the art line at the Four-State Fair next September.

He is building two houses, in miniature, beautifully environed by lawns and trees and flowers and birds. The trees will all be made of grass, gathered from the fields, the hedge will be composed of the beautiful blue grass and the birds and chickens and other domestic animals of the household will be made of cotton fabrics.

One of the houses will represent the summer home, while the other will be typical of the winter home. In the summer home will be perfectly depicted the rain shower and at the winter home will be demonstrated the snowstorm. # COUNCIL AWARDS PAVING CONTRACT

To Pat J. Moran of Salt Lake City, has been awarded the contract for the street paving in district 100. The award was made by the city council at its regular meeting last night. Mr. Moran's bid was $107,996, it being the lowest of three other bids which were submitted and opened yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the office of City Engineer Parker. The city engineer, inasmuch as the bid of Mr. Moran was the lowest, recommended that the contract be awarded to him. This district comprises Twenty-fourth street from Grant to Wall avenues; Lincoln avenue between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets; Wall avenue between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets, and Washington avenue between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth streets.

While not opposed to the paving of this district, Councilmen Austin and Dana insisted that the matter be deferred for one week in order that it be learned from the Ogden Rapid Transit company whether or not it contemplated the laying of additional track in this district. These councilmen believed that it works an injustice upon the abutting property owners to pay for the paving and then have the street railway company tear up the work for additional tracks. A resolution was prepared by the city engineer and inserted in the report, providing for a reservation of space for the laying of any contemplated tracks in the district, should this course be determined upon by the company. Daniel Burt, a property owner on Washington avenue, appeared before the council and protested against the paving on this thoroughfare, declaring that the taxpayers are already burdened with sufficient taxes.

A vote was taken and a majority of the council voted that the contract be awarded and the work started.

The other bidders on the work were the J. P. O'Neill Construction company, $109,650; the Wheelright Construction company, $125,449.97; Moran & Co., $120,969.91. City Engineer Parker explained that since the laboratory purchased by his department for making tests of asphaltum, it could be assured that the paving in this district will be of a high order and that the city will not have the same condition of affairs to deal with as have been noticeable with the paving on Twenty-fifth street.

On motion of Councilman Peery, President Browning named Councilmen Humphris, Dana, Peery, Austin, and himself as chairman of a committee to confer with the Ogden Rapid Transit company to determine whether or not any additional track in this district is contemplated, so that, if possible, the paving work can be arranged in such a manner as not to interfere with the work of the street railway company.

The apparent indifference of the Western Union Telegraph company in failing to comply with an order of the city council requiring all poles to be removed from Twenty-fourth street was the occasion for a severe rebuke from Councilman Peery. Mr. Peery wanted to know what progress had been made on the work.

Charles Thomas, manager of the company, explained that all of the corporations owning poles on this street have accepted the city's ultimatum in good faith except the Western Union Telegraph company. This company, Councilman Peery declared, had announced its intention of discontinuing its office in Ogden if it was made to comply with the order. Mr. Peery observed that so far as he was concerned he was certainly in favor of allowing the company to seek other pastures if it desired to retard the progressive spirit of the city, and upon his motion the city attorney was instructed to again notify all of the companies owning poles on this thoroughfare to have them removed within the time previously stipulated in the resolution.

The sanitary committee, to which was referred last week the matter of a dumping ground for garbage and refuse taken from the city streets, recommended that the garbage heretofore dumped in the lower part of the city near ice ponds and irrigating streams be carted to the crematory and burned. The report also recommended that the man in charge of the crematory be paid an extra compensation for this work. The report was adopted.

Councilman Dana called the attention of the council to the unsanitary condition of drinking fountains and horse troughs in the city. The matter was passed up to the sanitary committee for a report.

George Shorter, the sanitary inspector, reported that he had made an examination of the intakes for the city water supply in Ogden Canyon and found them in good condition. He recommended, however, that notices be placed in conspicuous places near these intakes, warning campers that the pollution of city water would be punished as provided for in the ordinance.

William Doyle was allowed $176.40 for the construction of a sidewalk in front of the police station, upon the recommendation of the city engineer. Payrolls and claims from the waterworks department were also allowed.

The board of directors of the Carnegie library submitted the quarterly report, which showed that the deficit is $299.20. The council as a committee of the whole will meet next Monday night, before the regular session, to discuss the matter.

A. C. Belnap and others petitioned the council of red stream damages which have resulted to an irrigation ditch on Twenty-first street between Quincy and Adams avenues as the result of excavations made by the city. The sidewalk committee, city engineer and city attorney were instructed to investigate.

P. F. Dalton explained that an irrigation ditch on Thirty-first street between Adams and Jefferson avenues was threatening the destruction of his each day nearer the grave. Notwithstanding property with its overflow. The matter was referred to the councilman from that ward and the city attorney.

Bishop's Counselor David Jensen asked the council to extend the city water mains east on Seventh street. Councilman Austin reminded the council of a previous resolution passed, which declared that no additional excavations would be made until July 1, and that the residents of his ward had frequently petitioned for water extensions but had been refused. The Mormon church contemplates the erection of a new meeting house in the Third ward and its water connections are desired for the building. The petitioner stated that if the city will install the pipe line the residents in this neighborhood will pay for the excavation work. It was finally decided that the council as a committee of the whole will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock and go over the localities where extensions are desired.

SICK DRUGGISTS

What They Do When They Have Kidney Disease.

Druggists know that "Kidney trouble" is "inflammation of the kidneys" and that if it doesn't yield promptly it becomes chronic, which the books declare to be incurable. Hence they don't lose much time with so-called kidney medicine. W. H. Bell, the leading druggist of Live Oak, Fla., went to the Atlanta specialist, Dr. W. M. Durham, to treat his kidney disease. He had it in such a serious form that he wanted the best. He also went to Dr. C. Drew, the leading physician of Jacksonville, Fla. All efforts failed and the dropical stage began.

He then sent to California for the Fulton treatment.

The seventh month thereafter he wrote as follows: "I am doing finely, the swelling is 'all out' and I am 100 per cent better." "Mrs. R. W. Price of this city also 'had serious kidney disease,' and 'could not turn over in bed. I told her about the treatment. She took it' and is now doing her own work." "Again and says she is well. Another lady here had kidney disease all her life and could not get out much. I put her on to the treatment and she 'is well, too.'"

How can people doubt the curability of chronic kidney disease in view of the constant stream of testimony like the above?

Inflammation of the kidneys, whether called "kidney trouble," Nephritis or Bright's Disease, get Fulton's Renal Compound.

Druggist Bell sent across the Continent for it. Isn't this a strong pointer for the uninitiated?

HOYT ARRESTED FOR ASSAULTING A CHILD

F. H. Hoyt, who claims to be from California, was arrested last night for an alleged attempt to commit a criminal assault upon a thirteen-year-old girl named Smith. Hoyt appeared at the Smith home on Twenty-third street yesterday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock, and engaged a room. The girl showed him to the room. When he reached the door he is said to have made an improper proposal to the girl and then jerked her inside. The mother of the child, hearing the screams of her daughter, rushed to her rescue. After considerable difficulty the child was torn from his grasp and he fled from the house. The matter was reported to Sheriff Wilson.

Accompanied by Deputy Sheriff John Hutchens, Sheriff Wilson made the rounds of the hotels and rooming houses searching for Hoyt. He was finally found in a rooming house on Washington avenue, where he had engaged a room. He was promptly placed under arrest and locked in the county jail.

Considerable excitement in the neighborhood was caused by the attack made upon the child. Hoyt has been in Ogden several days, soliciting business for a picture enlarging establishment.

BURGLAR ALARM OF BANK TESTED

Citizens passing along the corner of Twenty-fifth street and Washington avenue were almost thrown into a panic last night about 11 o'clock when the burglar alarm recently installed in the Ogden State bank began to sound a warning note that something was wrong in the interior of the bank.

Crowds began to gather at the doors and windows and some of the most inquisitive craned their necks to catch the first glimpse of the daring desperadoes whom they felt sure were about to make a coup and carry away the cash in the big vaults belonging to widows and orphans. With breathless haste some one dashed to the telephone and informed the police station that a big robbery was afoot.

With monotonous persistency the big alarms continued to ring out, but neither robber nor yeggman showed himself to the eager crowd which gathered outside. Finally J. E. Hallerson, the assistant cashier, and C. Past, paying teller, appeared and entered the bank to see what occasioned the then unexplained alarm.

Unlocking the doors of the vault the bank officials glanced at the delicate mechanism which with human-like intelligence informs any one who cares to read where the combination of the vault up stairs, read the record. They climbed the little flight of stairs to the other vault and discovered in a twinkling that the combination had been tampered with since the alarm had been set at closing time. An innocent looking woman at the top of the stair told the story. The janitor, whose duty it is to sweep out the building and dust after closing hours, had doubtless used the towel to wipe the dust from the enamel of the vault and in this manner inadvertently caused the well-known knob to spin around the third dial from the notch where it had been set.

The vault with the burglar alarm system was recently installed in the bank by the American Bank Protection company of St. Paul, Minn. So delicate is the mechanism that the slightest contact with the combination or the steel-bound walls of the big safe will start the alarm and warn those on the outside that all is not well within.

The alarm was set at 11 o'clock last night and the displacement of the combination by the janitor earlier in the evening was the cause of the combination being out of order.

THREE-CORNERED FIGHT IN HOUSE

Washington, July 19.—Legislation was halted in the house today while several of the members indulged in a series of personalities which assumed such proportions that Mr. Macon (Arkansas) announced his willingness to resign if the statements affecting him were proven.

The controversy was between Mr. Macon, Mr. Rucker of Colorado, and Mr. Mann of Illinois.

Mr. Rucker, after stating that he had voted for the appropriation of $25,000 to pay the traveling expenses of the president, entered upon the discussion of a provision granting money for the board of children's guardians and thus fell into a colloquy with Mr. Mann, during which the latter said that this money was used for the most part in sending "office-seekers" home.

Mr. Rucker remarked that Mr. Mann could have Colorado's share of such an appropriation.

Mr. Mann declared he had sent back more stranded people to Colorado than to Chicago.

Mr. Rucker had said that Mr. Macon

Anty Drudge Changes Grocers.

Grocer Shortlight—"Madam, the whole secret is in the naphtha. Now here's a new naphtha soap—try it."

Anty Drudge—"Naphtha nothin'! Couldn't I get a little naphtha of my own, if it was only naphtha did it. I tell you these imitations don't have the combination that's in Fels-Naptha soap, and won't wash clothes the Fels-Naptha way. Here's where I quit trading with you."

We are sometimes asked by housewives if Fels-Naptha soap is as good for washing clothes in winter as in summer. Better, if that is possible.

The best thing about Fels-Naptha is that you don't have to boil the clothes either winter or summer. And because boiling is more disagreeable in winter, Fels-Naptha is a greater blessing then. In the winter doors and windows are closed, and the nauseous odor of boiling clothes cannot escape to the open air; then, too, steam loosens and wrinkles wall paper. And chapped hands are caused by dipping them in hot water and then exposing to the cold.

You don't need hot water in washing with Fels-Naptha. But be sure and use it the Fels-Naptha way. Follow the directions on the red and green wrapper.

of Arkansas reminded him of a fellow who had applied at a Colorado ranch for food and raiment and had got both, but after remaining there for only thirty days, it was found could only say "who."

"The gentleman from Colorado," began Macon, "has attempted to relieve some of the gas on his stomach by telling an old yarn here that he applies to myself."

Mr. Macon declared the gas on his stomach never had been so disagreeable that he had felt called upon to reflect upon the action of any member in order to exploit the fact that he had cast a vote in a certain way, after the newspapers had ignored him.

"You will observe," he said angrily, "that these cynical people when they are ignored by the newspaper reporters, come to the floor of the house and call attention to what they have done."

Mr. Rucker, said Mr. Mann, was willing in his conclusions, while Mr. Macon was right, Mr. Macon, he said, had proclaimed himself from day to day as the watch dog of the treasury.

"But," he added, "he has cost more money by the delays he has occasioned by his objecting to the fact that the gentleman recognized himself when I gave the description of a man who appeared upon my ranch and asked for food and raiment. If a correct measurement was made according to the gentleman's own measure of his standing, he would be about six feet five."

The Republicans shouted with laughter, which was turned into applause when Mr. Macon arose.

He did not propose to bandy words, he said, with Mr. Rucker, "for I do not consider that he is worthy."

He challenged Mr. Rucker to substantiate his statements, in which event he declared that he would resign his seat.

A chorus of groans and expressions of "Oh, oh," "Oh, no," closed the incident.
